

Infor CloudSuite Financials & Supply Management: Global Ledger

Analyze and present information so you can make effective decisions

Infor® CloudSuite Financials & Supply Management: General Ledger is a complete record of all of your financial transactions that is flexible to accommodate entry into global markets. It allows you to streamline your operations and simplify financial analysis and reporting with unprecedented integration, automated business flows, and centralized accounting rules. These processing efficiencies can reduce your business cost and improve accuracy of financial statements and associated financial processes.

State-of-the-art Global Ledger

With Infor CloudSuite Financials & Supply Management: Global Ledger, you'll do much more than free your accounting staff from the burden of consolidating data from disparate sources—you'll open more time for high-value activities, such as controlling costs and improving accountability. Infor integration also helps you build a stable foundation for good corporate governance so that you can feel confident that your system of financial controls encompasses all the functions of your organization and that the information you report is complete and accurate.

Benefits

- Unlimited financial calendars can accommodate different fiscal yearends and other reporting needs.
- Unlimited ledgers can be defined to store adjustments, eliminations, currency gains or losses, and allocations.
- Unlimited bases can be defined to deliver financial information for regional regulatory requirements, management reporting requirements, consolidations, or other reporting needs.
- In addition to standard segments of basis, year, period, system, entity, accounting unit and project, you can define up to 10 additional segments for reporting.
- Unlimited attributes can be defined on any field or transaction within any process. Attributes attached to transaction distributions flow through to the journal and are available for reporting and analysis.

Why Infor CloudSuite Financials and Supply Management: Global Ledger

- Reduce your total cost of ownership.
- Improve the accuracy of financial statements and associated financial processes.
- Build a modernized technology platform that's optimized for growth.
- Realize a speedier time to value.
